Can you write a list of or draw things that are a blessing to you?

Use a separate sheet of paper and then you could put it up in your home to remind you of these things.

Colour the Beatitudes

Colour the shapes that have pieces of the beatitudes inside.

Extra Activity Idea:

Beatitudes Craft: Invisible Blessing Garden:

Have children use white crayons on white paper to draw a picture of a garden full of bumblebees and other friendly critters. Of course, they won't really be able to see their pictures. As they draw, explain that sometimes God's blessings can be invisible in our lives too. For example, we don't always see his mercy, or see his peace and strength in our lives. As they finish their drawings, have them use watercolours to paint over the whole paper so the picture shows up. Remind them that when they cover their lives with Jesus, like they cover their paper with paint, a beautiful picture will appear: a picture of God's love and blessing in their lives. As the kids work, ask them to tell you ways that God has blessed them. Encourage them to look for the invisible things, beyond physical stuff.
